AMENDMENT

In response to the Office Action mailed on October 25, 2002, please amend the application as follows:

In the Claims:

Please amend claim 17, as follows:

17. (once amended) A method for producing multiple imagery products from a single scan of motion picture film that provides a digital data file offering a full fidelity rendition of the imagery on the motion picture film, wherein full fidelity is taken to mean the substantial preservation of the spatial resolution and colorimetric profile of the motion picture film, the improvement wherein the multiple imagery products are enabled by storing a plurality of processing files that are capable of converting the digital data file into a plurality of imagery products.
